MESSAGE FROM THE CS, MINISTRY OF EDUCATION MR. JULIUS MIGOS OGAMBA

It gives me great pleasure to join you in celebrating this momentous occasion at Maasai Mara Technical and Vocational College (TVC). This graduation ceremony marks a key milestone in our shared journey to elevate Technical and Vocational Education and Training (TVET) in Kenya, and I congratulate all the graduates for their dedication and achievements.

The Government is committed to providing modern, market-relevant training in TVET institutions across the country. We have made significant strides in equipping these institutions through various interventions. One key initiative is the recruitment of highly qualified trainers under the Public Service Commission (PSC). In the latest recruitment drive, Maasai Mara TVC received 11 trainers, ensuring that our graduates are well-prepared to meet industry standards. These trainers are instrumental in driving Competency-Based Education and Training (CBET), enabling learners to acquire practical skills for the job market.

Additionally, we have prioritized the Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) framework, allowing Kenyans with informal skills to gain certification based on their competencies. This approach enhances opportunities for many skilled individuals to transition into formal employment or entrepreneurship, further driving economic growth.

Our focus on Greening TVET is also a critical part of our national strategy. We aim to make TVET institutions key players in environmental sustainability. Maasai Mara TVC, along with other institutions, is actively involved in promoting green practices, contributing to Kenya's goals of addressing climate change and promoting sustainable development.

Digitalization has also been at the forefront of our agenda. The JITUME program, a key Government initiative, has provided TVETs, including Maasai Mara TVC, with computers, internet access, and training in online job opportunities. This not only expands learning possibilities but also prepares our youth for the global digital economy, empowering them to be competitive in an increasingly interconnected world.

As we celebrate today, I encourage the graduates to embrace the world of opportunities that lie ahead. With skills in fields like plumbing, electrical engineering, automotive engineering, and hospitality, you are well-equipped to contribute to the Government's Bottom-Up Economic Transformation Agenda. You are the future leaders and innovators, poised to make a significant impact on Kenya's industrial and economic development.

Congratulations to all of you, and may your journey ahead be filled with success.

THE PRINCIPAL SECRETARY, STATE DEPARTMENT FOR TVET
MESSAGE TO MAASAI MARA TECHNICAL AND VOCATIONAL COLLEGE (TVC)
GRADUANDS DURING THE INSTITUTION'S 1ST GRADUATION CEREMONY

Today as we celebrate the 917 graduands of Maasai Mara Technical and Vocational College (TVC) on its 1st graduation ceremony, I am confident that hard work and dedication, has played a big role for you to get to this compelling milestone.

The world is constantly changing, and it is essential to stay updated with new technologies, trends, and industry demands. I am glad that Maasai Mara Technical and Vocational College (TVC) has taken cognizant of the emerging challenges in employment, innovation and entrepreneurship world by championing the implementation of Dual Training and establishing elaborate and strong industrial linkages with 20 industries. This will not only equip our TVET graduates with industrial skills but will also make them competitive in the global market.

The adoption of Competence Based Education and Training (CBET) in the TVET sector aims at ensuring that institutions produce graduates who are highly competitive in the global market. This model focuses on developing competencies that are directly applicable to the workplace, ensuring that graduates possess skills that meet market demands by imparting practical skills, problem-solving abilities, and adaptability, geared at producing all round TVET graduates who give valuable contribution to the development of our nation.

The State Department for TVET is working hand-in-hand with key development partners, private sector, industries including the Micro, Small and Medium Enterprises (Jua kali) and various Government agencies in developing the Dual Training Policy. The policy is awaiting submission to the Education Cabinet Secretary. This is envisioned to be a big win for Kenya because it will solve the challenge of mismatch between skills supply and market demand. Currently, under the collaboration of GIZ-Kenya, dual training is being implemented in 65 TVET institutions with a projected gradual expansion to roll out the programme in all TVET institutions.

In appreciating the heavy investment by the Government in the TVET sector, we encourage TVET institutions to ensure optimal utilization of the state-of-the-art equipment at their disposal to provide quality training, support manufacturing, value addition and expand the proceeds from their income generating units. We remain dedicated to implementing policies that enhance the quality and relevance of our programmes.

In an effort to improve quality training and service delivery, the Government 2,000 TVET trainers who have already been posted to various institutions where Maasai Mara Technical and Vocational College (TVC) received 11 trainers. Furthermore, the State Department has continued to ensure that TVET trainers are retooled and capacity built continuously to meet the evolving needs of the industry. The Government has put great emphasis on industrial linkages to ensure that effective partnership with Industry is deeply enshrined in our TVET institutions.

The Technical, Vocational Education and Training (TVET) has embarked on a journey to mainstream climate action through greening TVET curricular to ensure sustainability of environmental protection.

Mainstreaming climate action through greening TVET curricular in the Technical, Vocational Education and Training (TVET) is fundamental in equipping the youth with green skills in order to seize the various opportunities presented in green jobs as well as to develop and support a sustainable and resource-efficient society.

The infusion of green skills in the TVET curriculum is angled at preparing TVET graduates for green jobs as well as environmental protection. This is also angled at ensuring that the youth are fully prepared to handle the 21st century challenges such as global warming, climate change, social inequalities lifestyles.

In March 22, the Government launched the Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) Policy Framework which is a major milestone in the TVET sector. The Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) policy aims to transform the education sector by assessing and certifying skills acquired through formal, informal and non-formal training. RPL is a tool for inclusion that will bring many countless Kenyans to the ecosystem of skills qualifications.

To all the 917 graduands of Maasai Mara Technical and Vocational College (TVC), go and make us proud. Thumbs up to Maasai Mara Technical and Vocational College (TVC) for holding a successful 1st graduation ceremony.

Congratulations to all the graduands of Maasai Mara Technical and Vocational College (TVC).

MESSAGE FROM THE CHAIRPERSON, BOARD OF GOVERNORS - GABRIEL TANYASIS

As Chairperson of the Board of Governors, it is with immense pride that I address this graduating class and reflect on the significant milestones Maasai Mara Technical and Vocational College (TVC) has achieved in the past year. Together with the dedicated staff, we have overseen the successful completion of numerous infrastructural projects that enhance the learning environment and uplift the lives of our trainees.

Key developments include the Female Trainees Hostel, providing a safe and conducive space for our female students, and the Hospitality and Institutional Management (HIM) Workshop extension, which will elevate the quality of practical training in food and beverage, pastry, and accommodation management. We also completed the construction of five (5) standard classrooms, ensuring our growing number of trainees have access to spacious and well-equipped learning spaces.

We've made significant strides in staff welfare and support, with the construction of staff offices, including those for the Human Resource Manager, Procurement Officer, and Registrar. These facilities contribute to smoother administrative operations and better service to both students and faculty. Our renovation efforts span across several critical areas, including the Tourism Workshop, Electrical Workshop, and the D.O.S Office, ensuring these facilities meet modern standards. Environmental sustainability is a key priority for the college, as evidenced by our ambitious tree-planting initiative, where we've planted 24,000 trees. This effort not only beautifies the college but also contributes to our national efforts in environmental conservation.

Additionally, the college has made improvements to water systems, addressing the essential need for reliable water access by enhancing borehole piping, and we've transformed the landscape with the construction of pavements and walkways, and the flattening of the playground for expanded sports activities. Our non-teaching staff, 70% of whom are drawn from the local community, have demonstrated excellent performance. They play a critical role in maintaining the high standards of this institution, and I commend their hard work and commitment.

To parents and local leaders, I encourage you to continue embracing Maasai Mara TVC by sending your children here to gain vital technical skills. The benefits of this college are not just academic but transformational for the entire community. Together, we can build a brighter future through education and skill development. I would wish to thank officers from the state department for continued support and encouragement, the county government and our members of Parliament for support by way of support through bursaries to our trainees.

Congratulations to our graduates, and I wish you all the best in your future endeavors.

MESSAGE FROM THE PRINCIPAL

Dear Graduands, Parents, Guardians, Distinguished Guests, and the Maasai Mara Technical and Vocational College (MMTVC) Community, It is with immense pride and honor that I welcome you all to the 1st graduation ceremony of Maasai Mara Technical and Vocational College. Today marks a pivotal moment in our institution's history, as we celebrate the hard work, dedication, and achievements of our graduands. This ceremony is not only a reflection of your individual efforts but a testament to the power of technical and vocational education to transform lives, communities, and our beloved country, Kenya.

At the heart of our training lies a commitment to practical, hands-on learning. Through our collaboration with the Ministry of Education and the Government of Germany, we have adopted Dual Training, which seamlessly integrates classroom instruction with real-world work experience. This approach ensures that our graduates are not just knowledgeable but skilled and ready for the workplace.

Furthermore, the impact of Competency-Based Education and Training (CBET), guided by the Technical and Vocational Education and Training Curriculum Development, Assessment and Certification Council (TVET CDACC), cannot be understated. It has equipped our trainees with practical skills, aligning their competencies with industry demands.

We are especially grateful for the partnership we share with Colleges and Institutes Canada (CICan) under the Young Africa Works Program, generously funded by the Mastercard Foundation. Through this collaboration, MMTVC has received state-of-the-art equipment in critical fields such as Tour Guiding, Electrical Installation, and Solar PV. These resources have elevated our training capabilities, ensuring that our graduates remain competitive in a rapidly evolving global workforce.

Our success does not stop in the classroom. Maasai Mara TVC has excelled in co-curricular activities, particularly in research and robotics. Our students' achievements in these areas demonstrate not only innovation but also their ability to apply their knowledge to real-world challenges. We have made great strides, and I am confident that we are grooming the next generation of thinkers and doers.

At the heart of our training lies a commitment to practical, hands-on learning. Through our collaboration with the Ministry of Education and the Government of Germany, we have adopted Dual Training, which seamlessly integrates classroom instruction with real-world work experience. This approach ensures that our graduates are not just knowledgeable but skilled and ready for the workplace. Furthermore, the impact of Competency-Based Education and Training (CBET), guided by the Technical and Vocational Education and Training Curriculum Development, Assessment and Certification Council (TVET CDACC), cannot be understated. It has equipped our trainees with practical skills, aligning their competencies with industry demands.

We are especially grateful for the partnership we share with Colleges and Institutes Canada (CICan) under the Young Africa Works Program, generously funded by the Mastercard Foundation. Through this collaboration, MMTVC has received state-of-the-art equipment in critical fields such as Tour Guiding, Electrical Installation, and Solar PV. These resources have elevated our training capabilities, ensuring that our graduates remain competitive in a rapidly evolving global workforce.

Our success does not stop in the classroom. Maasai Mara TVC has excelled in co-curricular activities, particularly in research and robotics. Our students' achievements in these areas demonstrate not only innovation but also their ability to apply their knowledge to real-world challenges. We have made great strides, and I am confident that we are grooming the next generation of thinkers and doers. In this digital age, we cannot overlook the importance of ICT in education. Through the JITUME program, our college has been equipped with advanced technology and internet connectivity, enabling our students to access online opportunities. This digital transformation is part of the broader vision to harness technology for national development. I would like to extend my heartfelt appreciation to the parents and guardians who have entrusted us with the education of their children. Your support has been instrumental in their success, and today we share in your pride.

Additionally, we are deeply thankful for the unwavering support of the Ministry of Education in facilitating infrastructure development and the placement of trainees through the Kenya Universities and Colleges Central Placement Service (KUCCPS). Their continued partnership ensures that our institution remains a beacon of learning and opportunity. As we embrace TVET, we are not just educating individuals, but we are empowering the nation. Technical and vocational education impacts the "Five Superpowers" of our economy—agriculture, manufacturing, health, housing, and ICT. By fostering technical skills, we are driving Kenya toward sustainable development, in line with the Bottom-Up Economic Transformation Agenda. As Nelson Mandela once said, "Education is the most powerful weapon which you can use to change the world." We are poised to harness this power to propel Kenya into a prosperous future. We deeply value the support of our local community and recognize the crucial role you play in the growth of our college. As we grow, I encourage the community to invest in the construction of more hostels to accommodate our ever-increasing student population. I am pleased to inform you that the college has committed to providing scholarships to at least seven trainees from vulnerable families in the local community, particularly in STEM programs.

To our esteemed graduands, this is only the beginning of your academic and professional journey. Kenya's education system is progressive, and with your diploma, you have the opportunity to enroll in university and pursue a degree, even up to the level of a PhD. As Albert Einstein once said, "Education is not the learning of facts, but the training of the mind to think." Keep learning, keep striving, and never stop growing.

As we look to the future, I implore all stakeholders to continue investing in critical areas such as hostels, workshops (particularly in Mechanical Engineering, Building, and Hospitality), and lecture rooms. These investments will ensure that MMTVC remains at the forefront of technical education, producing graduates who are well-equipped to lead in their respective fields. In conclusion, I congratulate all our graduands, their families, and the entire MMTVC community. Let us continue working together to build a brighter, more prosperous Kenya through the transformative power of TVET education.
